As our economic conditions worsen in St. Louis, individuals and families are at growing risk of both economic and mental health crises. Catholic Charities Community Services proposes to begin a "Community Mental Health" AmeriCorps project to address this troubling problem in our community. A group of five AmeriCorps Members, the majority of whom will be masters-level social workers, will: provide mental health counseling to individuals and groups, assist with homelessness prevention case-management and provide direct aid assistance, and lead financial literacy education with groups of vulnerable individuals. Members will operate out of existing Catholic Charities Community Services outreach sites strategically located in vulnerable St. Louis area neighborhoods.

The International Institute of St. Louis is Missouri's largest refugee resettlement agency. Refugees, differ from other immigrants, in that they do not have the choice to remain in their home country. Refugees flee their country to save their life. They run from war and persecution, often losing beloved family Members along the way. The AmeriCorps Members will be integrated into the current organizational structure. They will take part in major refugee resettlement functions. A few of these include: Meet and greet family at airport, collect luggage & take them to their apartments. Demonstrate use of equipment (e.g. stoves, refrigerators, thermostats, toilets) and help them get settled. Take family members to grocery store, orienting family to the use of mass transit & shopping process. Explain food storage safety & cleanliness. Teach basic home management skill development classes. Conduct in-depth orientation 1st week in US: benefits, their role & that of agency, community orientation, employment, repayment of travel loan.

To address the widespread lack of access to basic health care, Community Health Centers serve 20 million people at more than 7,000 sites located throughout all 50 states and U.S. territories. Health centers depend in large part on public financial help and need a unified voice and common source for research, information, training and advocacy. To address these needs, the National Association of Community Health Centers (NACHC) organized in 1971. NACHC works with a network of state health center and primary care organizations to serve health centers in a variety of ways: Provide research-based advocacy for health centers and their clients.

Educate the public about the mission and value of health centers. Train and provide technical assistance to health center staff and boards. Develop alliances with private partners and key stakeholders to foster the delivery of primary health care services to communities in need.

Southeast Community Builders (SCB) AmeriCorps creates economic opportunities by providing an introduction to the construction industry for youth through sponsorship of a Construction Careers Summer Academy for youth 16-24. SCB AmeriCorps provides opportunities for community service through provision of low cost or no cost home repair services to low income, elderly and disabled residents. Our partnerships with labor unions in the region will help to provide nationally recognized training and advance apprenticeship opportunities for youth from disadvantaged circumstances and limited economics' communities. This project represents the first such project of its kind in this region whereby the non-profit, education, public business and labor communities have come together to address unmet housing and job training needs. SCB AmeriCorps will also allow the community to develop its own disaster relief strategy while providing opportunities for local youth to serve their own communities through Learn and Serve projects.
